A baby boy arrived at the home of John Harris last Thursday.

M. I. Powers, of the Citizens Bank, is here from Flagstaff, looking after his banking interests.

Will Tarr and family of Mineral Park, visited with relatives in Kingman this week.

Mrs. Sylvia Whitman, who has been in Los Angeles for a couple of weeks, is home again.

Mrs. M. B. Overstreet departed to Bakersfield Saturday last where she will visit relatives for a month or so.

J. W. Francis, one of the big sheep men of Flagstaff, and an ex-sheriff of Coconino county, was a Kingman visitor this week.

N. W. Tarr, who has been in Kingman over a week looking after business of the firm, departed for his home in Los Angeles Thursday evening.

Robert Richardson, a nephew of Rev. Deming arrived from Colorado Springs a few days ago and will remain for a few weeks.

It is quite common to see soldiers going through Kingman from the coast to Galveston and Wingate. This week several thousand went through to the east and expect to go on to Vera Cruz.

A few days ago a rock from a blast, put off in the sinking of reservoirs for the oil at the new garage of Haskin and Tolbard, broke one of the big plate glass windows in the front of the store of Nickell & Co.

Mrs. Mary E. Bradley, who has been spending the winter in Kingman with her daughter, Mrs. W. L. Linville, departed a few days ago for Douglas, where she will visit with her son for a few weeks before returning to her home in Connellsville, Pa.

T. E. Pollock, of the Arizona Central Bank, was a Kingman visitor this week, coming down to look after his many interests. Mr. Pollock believes this will be one of the greatest years the stock and sheep men have ever known in the state.

Casper N. Brewer had the fingers of his left hand badly lacerated by the explosion of five dynamite caps, at the mines, the first of the week. He came to town and had the injury dressed, and while the torn fingers are very painful no serious results are expected.

Bryan Hilty has just returned from Prescott, where he has been staying with his aunt, Mrs. H. B. White. Mr. White, who was injured in the automobile accident near Jerome is now at home but not entirely recovered from his injuries.

The Arizona Stores company is removing part of its stock to the Gaddis & Perry building, where it will maintain its business in future, although the other store will still look after part of the business in town. It is expected that a big sale will take place as soon as the stocks of the combined stores are arranged.

This week shows a big influx of tourists over the Old Trails Route, five cars coming through each day. When this great roadway is put in better shape the number of motorists coming over it cannot be estimated. Every car that now goes over the route is a standing advertisement of the scenic attractions that are to be found along its whole course.

Brown & Robinson this week received their new three ton White truck through the Old Trails Garage. The machine is one of the handsomest ever brought to Kingman and is ideal in its construction. All parts have been reinforced over the old style of White and the engine power has been greatly increased. The truck will be put on the Goldroad-Oatman run, and will haul freight and passengers. The new firm has started out under the best of auspices and we predict for them the greatest success. The Old Trails Garage is the agent for the White and the advent of this car is sure to attract many others.

Miss Topsy Root, of Needles, is visiting with her sister, Mrs. Harry Jones, in Kingman.

P. McCardell, the well known mineral surveyor, has returned from Music Mountain, where he has been surveying the properties of the Nevada Arizona Gold Mines company, for patent.

One of the first acts of the board of supervisors, when results are obtained from the sale of the road bonds, will be to make a splendid road over the mountain to Gold Road and Oatman. By the cutting down of the narrow part of the summit the road can be brought around the big bluff above the town of Gold Road and a splendid grade obtained. This cutting of the grade at the summit will allow of a new and better grade on the east side of the mountain. The road is one of the most used county roads in the state and should be put in the best shape possible for the heavy travel.

The last Santa Fe performance was given in the M. E. church last Wednesday evening. The entertainers were good and the audience showed its appreciation throughout the evening. The following day some of the ladies took the company on a picnic to Boulder Springs, where they had a most enjoyable time. It is these little marks of attention by the people of Kingman that has given the town the name of the most hospitable place on the line of the Santa Fe and the place where the entertainers of the Reading Room Lyceum would rather stop at than any of the other towns along the line of the Santa Fe.

Haskin and Tolbard are getting their big garage in shape and will soon receive the machinery and equipment. The building is one of the largest in the state devoted to automobile repair and sale of machines, and when the new machinery is in place it will be able to take care of an immense business. The mass of transcontinental travel will make the garages of Kingman profitable undertakings. And on the other hand the number of machines in town represent a greater per capita than any town of its size in the United States.

This week Henry Lovin and Rosco Stephens purchased the entire cattle holdings of Telly Bland and the coming week will proceed to gather them. The purchase price was 28,000$. Mr. Lovin paid the big end of the money and becomes a full partner with Mr. Stephens in the ranch and stock. Recently Mr. Stephens purchased the cattle holdings of Mrs. Farlee and made several other trades, which gave him a nice start in the cattle industry. The purchase of the Bland cattle will make a big herd. The range is said to be one of the best on the Sandy, being well watered and feed in plenty.

Tomorrow the juvenile nine will play the railroad office boys of Needles on the local diamond, and the following Sunday the big fellows will try out the San Bernardino nine. It is purposed to have a game every Sunday afternoon during the summer months and at least four games are now scheduled. In connection with the playing of these games we would call upon the boys of the Kingman club that it is up to them to get out and warm up and get in shape if they intend to make any showing against a fairly good team. They must not for a moment think that they are able to hit the pill and do field work unless they have had considerable practice. Young fellows should show some life and to get out an hour or two every evening will give them new life.

The registration books of Mohave county are now open and the electors of the county must have their names thereon before being qualified to vote at either the primaries or the general election. All deputy Recorders are qualified under the law to register voters. No one who is not able to read the constitution of the United States in the English language can register. Women over the age of twenty-one years are qualified electors and may register. Women born in a foreign country and married to a citizen of the United States are eligible to register, taking the same status as the husband. Every woman and man in the county should see that her or his name is upon the great register. Mohave county should make a big showing at the coming election and to do so every one should see that their name is where it will do the most good when election day comes.

Superior Court.

The case of B. W. McCauseland and R. D. McCauseland against Lovin & Withers company was given to the jury last Monday night, and after deliberating several hours brought in a sealed verdict for Lovin & Withers company and assessing its damage at 500$. This cause grew out of the taking of property from the Keystone mine a year ago and which was claimed by Lovin & Withers company under an execution sale, and which was also claimed by McCauseland. McCauseland sued for 10,000$ damage. Plaintiff was represented by R. E. Morrison, of Prescott, and S. D. Stewart, of Kingman, while the defendant company was represented by E. S. Clark and T. G. Norris, of Prescott. The case was ably handled on both sides. An appeal will be taken to the supreme court by plaintiff.

In the matter of the Kingman Auto and Transportation company and M. G. Wagner against the Walter G. McCarthy company, on accounting and damage, the jury found for the plaintiff in the sum of 3,000$. Wagner and the McCarthy company had entered into a copartnership in the auto and freight business and out of this partnership grew a large amount of litigation. McCarthy withdrew all of its property and while it paid some of the debts of the companies the injury to the business was large. Wagner sued to recover this loss and the jury took his view of the subject. Ross H. Blakely conducted the case before the jury, although J. E. Russell, of Prescott, and C. W. Herndon, of Kingman, were associated with him. John A. Ellis, of Kingman, and a Los Angeles attorney appeared for the defendant.

After the completion of the two trials Judge Perkins adjourned the court until sometime next week, and departed Tuesday evening to his home in Flagstaff.

Suffragette Entertainment.

A crowded house greeted the advent of the suffragettes last Saturday evening, and those that went to scuff remained to enjoy one of the best skits that has ever been staged in Kingman. Every moment of the time showed something doing. After the run of pictures the entire audience joined in the singing of patriotic songs and then Mrs. Frances Munds made a neat and witty speech on the subject of suffrage. This was followed by a skit that brought down the house. The cast was made up of Mrs. Munds, Miss Rosena Deming and Mrs. M. T. Sommers. They were really and truly good and kept the audience laughing and applauding with their breezy repartee. The performance wound up with a great militant suffragette scene, more than twenty ladies taking part with waving banners and singing the battle hymn of militants. These ladies were dressed for the occasion, wearing cute little caps and the militant dress.

The high school board and the Kingman public school trustees have agreed on a combination that may work out satisfactorily. Prof. Linville has been engaged to look after the two schools and will have charge of the corps of teachers. A kindergarten teacher of ability will be engaged to teach the kindergarten class and the high school grades will be presided over by one or two teachers. The lower part of Odd Fellows building will be taken over for the high school and kindergarten, the entire floor to be divided into rooms of the proper size to accommodate the different classes. The expense of the building will be borne jointly. This arrangement will make possible the opening of the high school next September. Within a short time an effort will be made to have a high school and public school building erected to accommodate the necessities of the entire county. The expense of the building may be borne jointly by the district and the county high school. A building to cost about 40,000$ is planned.

Next Thursday will be commencement at the Northern Arizona Normal School. Among the thirty graduates will be the Misses Gertrude Miller, Mabel Van Marter and Gladys St. Charles, of Kingman. These young ladies have worked hard to pass the ordeal and that they have earned their sheepskin is to their credit. Mrs. Kean St. Charles and Mrs. S. T. Elliott will attend the exercises.

Mrs. J. L. Nelson and her two sons, William and J. L. Jr., the latter accompanied by his wife, were in Kingman several days this week. The Nelsons have disposed of part of their cattle holdings to W. B. Stephens, the balance being removed to the Gold Butte section, north of the Colorado river in the eastern part of Nevada. The Nelson family have lived at Peach Springs since the early eighties and have built up a nice holding of cattle, but owing to the recent order of the Indian Bureau they have had to remove their herds from the reservation. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson, Sr., will remain at Peach Springs.

James Dundon has been quite ill this week, resulting from an operation for hernia. Report from the sick room last evening was to the effect that he is getting along very nicely.

Mrs. E. F. Thompson returned last Sunday from Los Angeles, where she has been visiting with her daughter, Miss Bessie.

A Yuma dispatch says: Julian P. Jones and associates, of Los Angeles, have paid A. B. Ming, Frank Baxter and Gus Livingstone, all of Yuma, 14,000$ cash for the old Clip mine. This includes the tailings dump, which is believed to be worth more than the mine itself. Four years ago Baxter, Ming and Livingstone bought the property at a tax sale and they cleaned up a handsome profit. The Clip was a heavy producer of gold in the early days, but was closed 28 years ago. At the time it was worked nothing was known of cyaniding or other modern methods of recovery. It is estimated that the tailings are worth 7$ a ton. It is the intention of the new owners first to cyanide the tailings and then rehabilitate the mine. There is much ore blocked out in the workings and it is claimed that it can be handled at a profit by scientific methods. Included in the deal are several undeveloped but promising claims.

United States Smelting.

A Boston News Bureau dispatch says:—Officials of the United States Smelting Co. are in receipt of wire advices that the manager of the company's Pachuca mines is now in the city of Mexico with his staff. He wires that all the mines at Pachuca are running and that there have been no losses and no damages to property. He says he will return to the property "as soon as permitted."

The mines and mills are now being run by native Mexicans, men who can be relied upon and who are capable and efficient. The company has been most fortunate in keeping on the most friendly terms with its employees who are desirous of continuing work without molestation from either of the warring factions.

Notice.

Gaddis & Perry Company have opened offices on the second floor of the George building, where they will transact all business of the firm and where they may be consulted at any time. Rooms 1 and 2.

Three-Foot Vein Reported.

A Nogales dispatch says:—A three-foot vein of copper ore is reported to have been uncovered in the Dixie mine in the Wrightson district of this county. The property is owned by W. T. Powers, Jacob Johnson and Messrs. Hogan and McCutcheon, all of Patagonia. Development consists of a tunnel fifteen feet long. A winze has been sunk from the tunnel to a depth of thirty feet. It was at the bottom of the winze that the ore was discovered.

If Kingman is to celebrate the Fourth of July it will have to get busy, as it takes fully sixty days to arrange program and raise the necessary money to cover the expense. Kingman and the surrounding country could get up a great two-day show if they would just start something. Many of the hustling boys are in favor of a celebration and it only needs the encouragement of the business men to make it a success.

Miss Catherine Teale has gone to the old home in Missouri, where she will visit with her grandmother for some time.

Miss Mary Kayser, who has been visiting with her brother, W. L. Kayser, at Tempe, is home again.

Child Cross? Feverish? Sick?

A cross, peevish, listless child, with coated tongue, pale, doesn't sleep; eats sometimes very little, then again ravenously; stomach sour; breath fetid; pains in stomach, with diarrhoea; grinds teeth while asleep, and starts up with terror—all suggest a Worm Killer—something that expels worms, and almost every child has them. Kickapoo Worm Killer is needed. Get a box to-day. Start at once. You won't have to coax, as Kickapoo Worm Killer is a candy confection. Expels the worms, the cause of your child's trouble. 25c. at your Druggist.
